

What is Safeguarding?

Safeguarding means protecting the health, wellbeing and human rights of children (under 18) and adults at risk, enabling them to live safely, free from abuse and neglect. It is about people and organisations working together to prevent and reduce both the risks and experience of abuse or neglect.

Why do we do it?

As a training provider, we are committed to ensuring our apprentices and staff are always safe. We draw funding through the ESFA, which means we have a responsibility to ensure all our Apprentices and staff are protected from harm. This includes reducing risk of accident, injury or abuse.

How do City Skills do it?

We have robust policies and procedures to ensure the safety and well-being of our apprentices and staff. Risk assessments and a Health & Safety vetting form are used to establish a safe environment. Our safeguarding policy includes how we maintain safety along with health and well-being. We complete regular checks with apprentices and employers around the safety and well-being of the apprentice, through progress reviews and our employer 360 feedback form. Our safeguarding report form is easily accessible through our website and provides the opportunity to report a concern while maintaining anonymity if preferred. Sometimes you might need to inform us and you can do so using the link buttons below.
